Autry Reunion 2024

I hope everyone returned home safely.

A special shout out to those who set the tables up the night before AND added some fall decorations. I never thought of table decor, but it really added something.

Marsha

Parents, help us decorate our bulletin boards borders for Fall. Coloring sheets for your children (or anyone “Young at Heart”) are available for pick up in the vestibule. Once colored, please bring back and add them to our bulletin board across from the Sunday School office or in the fellowship hall. 😊
Thank you! Sheri

AWANA News

Dear Philadelphia Baptist Church

During the month of August, I had the opportunity to conduct training sessions for seven churches, focusing on Connect meetings and Basic Training. It's a crucial part of our mission that our Awana leaders receive the best training possible, enabling them to effectively disciple the children in their churches and surrounding communities. Your support is not just appreciated, but it's also vital in making these training sessions a reality. Thank you for being an integral part of this journey.

At a recent Awana Basics Live at East Campus First Baptist Church, we spoke about the impact a loving, caring adult has on the formation of faith in a child. With tears streaming down her face, Miranda Henry shared her story of the loving, caring adult who made a difference in her life. "When I was a freshman in high school, I got plugged into our youth group. I met Genise Dotson, and instantaneously, a bond was formed between us. Our friendship deepened over the years and progressively became mother-daughter relationships. When I lost my mother, Genise was at my side and walked with me daily through the toughest season of my life. She challenged me to grow my faith, which I didn't know needed improvement, by unintentionally forcing me to confront my views on God and faith. She helped me realize how important He is to me. Genise inspired me to keep moving on, to cherish my family and friends, and never to stop praying. We have similar interests and hobbies, but even better than that is our spiritual connection. We have had many deep conversations about our life problems, faith, insecurities, and painful memories. Genise listened, prayed for me when I was in tears and offered Godly advice when needed. I'm so blessed to have had Genise in my life and to have known her."

I love to hear stories like this one about the influence of a loving, caring adult who changes a child's life and forms a resilient child disciple. Miranda is paying it forward by serving in the Awana club in her church this year.

Thank you for your prayers and gifts to my ministry. Your gift of $150.00 enables me to reach more churches and ultimately reach more children with the gospel of Christ.

In His service, Kathy Brock

Dear Family of God of Philadelphia,

As I was looking through our calendar for October, it appears that this month there are a lot of opportunities for men to grow spiritually. On October 3rd, we will have our monthly men's dinner at Gus's Family Restaurant in Monroe. These monthly dinners are a multigenerational opportunity to mentor and support each other. Men, please come, and bring your sons and grandsons. It will be a blessing to your family, and to our community.

On October 4th – 6th, our men will be going on a retreat to the Blowing Rock Conference Center. I know it is hard for guys to commit to a weekend away from home responsibilities, but all men need time away with other men. This is a time to build godly friendships, to encourage each other, and to strengthen our faith. Don't miss this opportunity. The cost is only $80 + expenses. For more information, reach out to me or Doug Anderson.

On October 18th – 19th, the Carolina Men's Conference will be taking place at Shiloh Baptist in Monroe. You will need to register for this conference, and there is a small fee. But, if you are not able to pay the fee, just let me know. You can find out more information and register for this conference at:

<https://fbsimpsonville.org/carolina-mens-conference/north-carolina/>

This past Saturday, I attended the Life Surge Conference in Charlotte. One of the speakers was Pastor John Maxwell. He is one of the most renowned mentors on the topic of leadership in the world. He is now 77 years old, has written 60 books, and continues to be in high demand as a speaker for both business and faith events around the world. Not long ago, a man came up to him and said, "I want to do what you do." John replied, "A lot of people want to do what I do. But are you willing to do what I did, to get to do what I do?" John has read thousands of books, logged millions of miles traveling, and sacrificed greatly to get "to do what he does." There is a price that must be paid.

Men, if you want to grow in your faith there are some things you must do. If you want to be a great mentor to your children and grandchildren, there are some things you must do. If you want to be the spiritual leader of your family and leave a godly heritage, there are some things you must do. Going to conferences, spending time with godly men, learning from those who are older and wiser than you are some of those things. Don't miss your opportunities to grow in the Lord this month. Let me leave you with one last nugget from John Maxwell. He said, "If you are the head of the class, you are in the wrong class. Get in a class where the others are smarter, faster and wiser than you. That is how you grow."

May our Father bless you today. It is a joy to serve our Lord with you!
